The Wooden Deck: Raising a Child to love Jesus.

Joanie Swingler and Jared Billups

Hear from some parents who have and are raising kids to love the Lord. Practical ideas on discipling your kids to love the Lord with all of their heart, soul, mind, and strength. No one is an expert, and no one beside God is a perfect parent, but this will be a time of sharing and hearing from one another on what everyone has learned about parenting.

The Restaurant: Reclaiming Jesus

Daryl Fulp

We all have filters, and those filters influence how we see the world around us. Sometimes those filters brighten and make the truth clearer, sometimes they distort and warp. Time, politics, and culture have unfortunately distorted our view of Jesus to a nearly unrecognizable figure. In this workshop we are going to seek to rip off the filters and reclaim the real, approachable, and radical Jesus so that we can reflect Him well to the world around us.

Main Conference Room: Finding Peace in the Midst of the Pandemic

Lee Poe

The Covid 19 pandemic has disrupted almost everything about our lives-- creating isolation, intense needs, health crises, and even disruptions in the practice of our faith. Yet, in the midst of this, God is faithful, and we can find hope and peace in Him and the truth of His Word.

Workshop #2 - 3:50 -
4:50

The Wooden Deck: The Evangelical Church in the U.S.

John Durham

What is happening in the Church in the US right now? Are there concerning signs, are there hopeful signs. Using the data of nationally known Dr. Kevin Dougherty (a Baylor Professor, member of Highland Baptist Waco) we will see the trends of the Church in America. Learn how to pray and see the opportunities the Lord has opened.

The Restaurant: Social Media Age for Parents

Braya Choquette

What should parents know about their student's social media activity. How can social media be redeemed, and what are some guardrails parents can know to help guide their children and youth? What are some warning signs of trouble?

Main Conference Room: Dealing with the Trauma of Trauma

Ken Brumley

Many who work with people who have been traumatized in their past or are presently in the middle of a trauma, often do not recognize the impact it has upon them personally. Whether we are dealing with ongoing poverty, death, loss or calamity in people's lives, we can experience what is caused Secondary Trauma or Compassion Fatigue. We can become traumatized ourselves without even knowing it. This session will explore the characteristics of Secondary Trauma, the long term impact and ways of dealing with it.
